

Residual collisions by culprit body shaded columns have the shield running at inference

Categories overlap: one episode may be attributed to more than one body, so bars are grouped rather than stacked and need not sum to the episode count.